TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Mrs. Myrene Magabo was my Comm 101 (Introduction to Public Speaking) Instructor during the Spring of 2006 at the Antelope Valley College, Lancaster, California.

Mrs. Magabo did not only prove to us, students, her theoretical and applied knowledge and skills in the field of Communication but also demonstrated her ability in providing effective instruction.

Her classroom activities are varied and are designed to practically meet the students' learning needs. I also find the instructional materials or hand-outs she had put together highly valuable and were great help in keeping up with the lessons in public speaking.

She had shown us exemplary example of leadership, patience, tolerance, understanding and sensitivity to students' educational background, personality, religious, economic, and socio-cultural diversities.

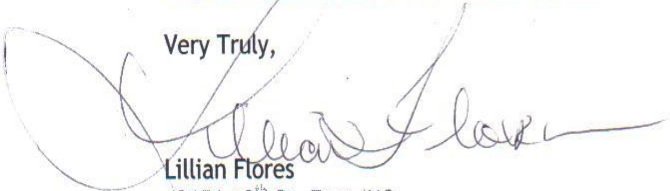

She is highly enthusiastic and strongly dedicated to her teaching profession. She always had time for student consultation in and off-campus. She utilizes communication technology to communicate to her students and to augment classroom instruction (i.e., e-mails, posting materials at the college web site).

Her teaching philosophy demonstrates her desire for students' success in their chosen careers. She endeavors to ensure that students get lifelong learning and acquire integrated knowledge and skills that are applicable and can be utilized in the real world outside the campus. Mrs. Magabo possesses a highly caring and understanding attitude towards her students—something that in my experience as a student is rare to find among many College Instructors or University Professors.

Mrs. Magabo has provided me help in my learning and has made a great impact on me and to almost all her students in our class. Thus, I am confident that any educational institution who hires her shall be doing favor to her would be students.

I would be willing to provide answers should there be more questions regarding Mrs. Magabo's proficiency and efficiency as Instructor.

Very Truly,

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my privilege to write a letter of reference for Myrene Magabo. It is with great confidence that I recommend Myrene for hire with your organization.

As the facilitator of the Quail Valley School Site Council, I worked closely with Myrene and observed her professionalism first hand. She actively participated as a member of School Site Council. She held the office of secretary and carried out her duties with efficiency and diligence. During her service to this organization she proved to be well organized, dedicated, insightful, and competent.

Myrene Magabo will be an effective and valuable addition to any organization.

Sincerely,

Joan Harpster
